

A Journey Home
the Carley Solether Saga

" I was living in Seattle writing grants for a non-profit through AmeriCorps. When my contract was up I went to Brooklyn to see if that's where I wanted to live.

Since visiting Brooklyn I decided to return to Cleveland - to a more accessible art community.

Not only is the rent cheaper, but I have friends who own art spaces and I felt it would be easier to make connections here.

I am in the process of looking for graphic design programs and CSU has one that is affordable and close to where I would like to live.

warehouse space with an open floor plan, industrial windows, exposed brick and duct work. Will do rehab. Has pets. Can afford up to $900/ month.

- Welder needs 2-3K square feet space for $100-300/month
- Work-only space for a stone sculptor on a ground floor w/a freight door and concrete/dirt floor. Electric compressing air tool makes a lot of noise.
- Artist seeking a workshop space in the Cleveland area for a small machine/fabrication shop. About 800-2000 sq ft. Any leads would be super helpful folks!
